

Justin Johnson

Chief Operating Officer, Arevon Energy

As Chief Operating Officer of Arevon Energy, Justin and his team are responsible for all construction, engineering, procurement, operations, and asset management activities for one of the nation's largest solar portfolios. Justin is one of Arevon's founders and formerly held roles at Capital Dynamics, EDP Renewables and Horizon Wind Energy. He has over 20-years of energy and operations experience in procurement, asset management, performance and engineering management, development, and construction. Prior to entering the renewable energy industry, Justin served as an officer in the US Air Force for 7 years in flight test and project management roles. Justin is a graduate of the US Air Force Academy and Babson College.