

Babatunde Onadele, Jr.

Vice President of Operations, CORE Builders

Babatunde (Tunde) Onadele, Jr. is a Bay Area native of Nigerian descent whose joy in life comes from spending time with his wife and two children. He graduated from San Jose State University (SJSU) with a degree in Civil Engineering and a concentration in construction management. Tunde is currently working as a Senior Project Manager for Core Builders, where he manages the construction of several hundred affordable housing units from design through completion.

In addition to his professional aspirations, Tunde finds purpose and takes great pride in helping others achieve their goals. He is an Industry Advisory board member for SJSU's Minority Engineering Program and the Chair of AGC of California's Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Steering Committee.
