

MICHAEL THOMAS

Capital Program Management Unit Manager, Engineering Services, Metropolitan Water District of Southern California

Mr. Thomas is a California-licensed mechanical and civil engineer with 35+ years working in the water, nuclear, petroleum, and aircraft industries, the last 23 at Metropolitan Water District. He oversees MWD's capital investment planning, standards and Value Engineering programs, and leads energy strategy and development initiatives; is a Board member for WaterStart, a water innovation non-profit; speaks at worldwide conferences on CIP planning and water innovation; formed CLEAN-17, an engineering network of western United States water agencies; and is the Logistics Chief for Metropolitan's Emergency Operations Center.