Zach Koerber

Co-Founder | Contracts Connected

Zach Koerber builds AI for construction. He is the co-founder of Contracts Connected, an AI contract and compliance platform, where he builds software that does real construction work today: reading insurance certificates, reviewing certified payroll, creating and analyzing contracts, and running back-office workflows. He also builds AI coworkers that autonomously operate the back office for construction companies, fully trained on their processes and knowledge. Every Tuesday he hosts a free AI for Construction webinar, teaching contractors how to put AI to work one practical use case at a time.
