Roger Minami

Procurement Analyst | Los Angeles District (SPL)/USACE, SB OFC

Roger Minami is a (lousy) procurement analyst at the Small Business OFC of the Los Angeles District (SPL)/USACE. Roger assists small businesses through the creation of market research reports that helps these firms to link their capabilities with SPL needs. Prior to SPL, Roger was the Small Business OFCR at Lawrence Berkeley National Lab up in the Bay Area. Roger's dad was a farmer in Santa Maria, California and his mother makes good Japanese food. Roger was a chaplain candidate/2nd Lt in the Minnesota Army National Guard. He (barely) graduated from the University of Southern California (BA), University of Oklahoma (MPA) and the University of Toronto (MTS). His hobbies include running and writing humorous short stories.
