Bradley A. Jeanneret

President & Chief Executive Officer, Hensel Phelps

Bradley (Brad) Jeanneret is President and Chief Executive Officer of Hensel Phelps, leading the company's strategic direction, culture, and long-term growth while upholding its commitment to operational excellence, innovation, and client service. Brad assumed the role of President and CEO on January 1, 2026, after serving as President and Chief Operating Officer.

A graduate of Kansas State University with a Bachelor of Science in Construction Science and Management, Brad joined Hensel Phelps in 1996 as a field engineer. Over the course of his career, he has held leadership positions across operations and project management, gaining extensive experience throughout the company's offices nationwide. This broad operational background provides him with a deep understanding of the business and the people who drive its success.

As CEO, Brad is focused on advancing Hensel Phelps' legacy of excellence while positioning the company for future growth. He is committed to developing people, strengthening client partnerships, fostering innovation, and ensuring the company continues to deliver exceptional value across every market it serves.

Brad is active in industry organizations, including the Associated General Contractors (AGC) and is dedicated to supporting charitable and community initiatives alongside his family.

Outside of work, Brad enjoys spending time with his wife and two daughters. Their interests include boating, outdoor activities, and family adventures.
